Technology Procurement

TeamLogicIT®
Your Technology Advisor

At TeamLogic IT, we work with you to outfit your company with computer hardware and software solutions for your unique business needs. Whether you're establishing a new office, expanding your present one or upgrading your IT systems, we offer full service consultative sales and support.

Don't guess which equipment is right for your business.

Let our trained IT professionals recommend the appropriate hardware and software. We take into account your current and future business needs with flexibility and budget in mind. The best IT systems are those that are designed to scale, giving you options when and if you need them.

OUTFITTING YOUR BUSINESS WITH THE RIGHT SOLUTIONS

Knowing the right technology for your needs starts with a system assessment. First, we take a complete inventory of your hardware, software, peripherals, applications, licenses and warranties. Then, we supply you with a detailed report of what you have now and a proposal for what we recommend you update or acquire to better meet your business needs.

Then, we'll design, purchase, install and configure all hardware and software. This can include: desktop and laptop computers; servers; printers, scanners and hard drives; CD and DVD burners; wireless networks; high-speed Internet; data backup solutions and applications.

Through our strategic partnerships and nationwide buying power we can typically save you money, time and best assure you get the hardware and software that meets your business needs. Our IT professionals take special care to choose the right hardware and software the first time, avoiding costly errors such as buying equipment that you will soon outgrow or overbuying equipment you simply do not need or have the demand for.
